Welcome to the 2022 Annual Clinical Assembly of Osteopathic Surgeons (ACA)!

As President of the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons (ACOS), I am pleased to welcome all registrants, exhibitors, and guests to Austin, Texas. After two years of virtual conferences due to the COVID-19 pandemic, we are excited to reunite, in-person, at the 2022 ACA to celebrate the 95th anniversary of the ACOS.

For 95 years, the ACOS has remained steadfast in our mission to promote excellence in osteopathic surgical care through education. The ACA presents a forum to participate in the most current educational programs that will help you achieve surgical excellence in our healthcare environment, as well as to network with osteopathic surgeons from across the country. The theme of this year's ACA is Creating the Legacy of Tomorrow. This legacy has never been more important and you, the members, are that legacy. During this year's ACA, we hope you renew old friendships, build new connections, and take advantage of the superb opportunities to learn together and share new ideas.

Highlights to the programming include presentations by our featured speakers:

- Thursday, September 15
 - Keynote Address by William McNulty
 - Theodore F. Classen Memorial Lecture by Debra Classen, MA
- Friday, September 16
 - Keynote Address by Eugene W. Laveroni, Jr., DO, FACOS, DFACOS

New this year!

- The inaugural Inclusion, Diversity, Equity, and Action (IDEA) Committee Lecture on Friday, September 16. You will not want to miss this talk by Michaela A. West, MD, PhD, FACS.
- In support of our residents, we will be hosting two workshops – Life After Residency and our IDR Mock Oral Board Workshop, both on Saturday, September 17.

Further enhance your educational experience by visiting our ACA Exhibit Hall. There you will find scientific posters that reflect the many hours of research by our residents and students. Exhibitors will be showcasing the latest products and services to enhance your practice and better serve your patients.

I am pleased that you have joined us for the 2022 Annual Clinical Assembly. I know it will be an enjoyable, rewarding meeting as well as a profound educational experience for you and our colleagues.

Sincerely,

Christopher A. Reeder, DO, FACOS, FACS

President, American College of Osteopathic Surgeons

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

EMBRACING THE SUCK: TURNING
CHALLENGES INTO ENDLESS OPPORTUNITIESWilliam McNulty

Thursday, September 15 | 9:00 AM - 10:30 AM

JW Ballroom 5-6

Dedicated to serving those in need following Russia's invasion of Ukraine in 2022, William McNulty founded Operation White Stork, named after Ukraine's national bird, as a humanitarian initiative dedicated to supporting the critical needs of people in war-torn countries and providing humanitarian aid on the ground. McNulty leads the organization as its head of mission. White Stork has evacuated more than 27,000 women & children from besieged cities across Ukraine, and supplied more than 16,000 combat first aid kits to the defense forces.

McNulty is also the Founder of Team Rubicon Global and the Co-Founder of Team Rubicon, an NGO that deploys teams of military veterans in response to natural disasters. Under McNulty's leadership, Team Rubicon grew from a group of four operators who traveled to Haiti in the wake of the devastating 2010 earthquake to a volunteer army of over 150,000 members. Over the past twelve years, Team Rubicon has deployed on more than 500 operations, with a team that is 75-percent veteran, including international operations in Burma, Dominica, Greece, Nepal, South Sudan, and Pakistan. In eight years, McNulty raised over $50M in donations and launched Team Rubicon branded charities in Australia, Canada, Norway, United Kingdom and USA.

Team Rubicon has responded to several of America's largest natural disaster crises including Hurricane Harvey, Hurricane Irma, and Hurricane Sandy. A 2015 Presidential Leadership Scholar and recipient of numerous leadership and service awards, McNulty is exclusively represented by Leading Authorities speakers bureau. Captivating and inspiring, his presentations look at building purpose-driven cultures, finding productive ways to embrace and push past difficult moments or audacious goals, building and scaling a brand globally, and pursuing innovative methods to solve age-old problems.

Humble and genuine, McNulty shares his personal story of coping with the service void in his life after his Marine Corps enlistment ended, as well as how that void led to the idea for Team Rubicon. Realizing a symbiotic need for purpose and community within the veteran population—and a desperate need for skilled first responders in the aftermath of disaster—McNulty shares how he laid the groundwork for Team Rubicon and how he built consensus around his innovative new model. Pulling out specific lessons for each audience, he talks about implementing Team Rubicon domestically and globally, and inspires groups to build cultures of purpose, tackle problems that seem out of reach, and find new opportunities for injecting meaning and hope in the everyday.

Before founding Team Rubicon, McNulty served for nine years in both the infantry and intelligence and worked for the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence, the Defense Intelligence Agency, and the National Security Council's Iraq Threat Finance Cell. McNulty currently serves on the Board of Directors of Airlink Flight, Team Rubicon Australia, Team Rubicon Canada, Team Rubicon USA and Team Rubicon Global, and on the advisory board of the Truman National Security Project. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

He is a recipient of: 2017 Honorary PhD in Humane Letters from the University of Kansas; 2016 Presidential Delegation to the Invictus Games; 2015 Heinz Award for the Human Condition; 2014 Purpose Economy 100; 2012 Grinnell College Young Social Innovator of the Year; and the 2010 Johns Hopkins University Government Service Alumni Award. He holds a B.A. in Economics and Communication Studies from the University of Kansas and an M.A. in Government from The Johns Hopkins University.

THEODORE F. CLASSEN MEMORIAL LECTURE A HOLISTIC APPROACH TO GRIEF FOR SURGEONS AND THEIR PATIENTS

Debra Classen, MA

Thursday, September 15 | 10:30 AM - 11:30 AM

JW Ballroom 5-6

Married for almost forty years to Dr. Roger F. Classen, Debra speaks today as his widow, honoring his professional and personal life. Her educational background includes a B.A. in Psychology from Kent State University, an M.A. in Counseling from John Carroll University, and an M.A. in Theology from St. Mary Graduate School.

As the wife of a general surgeon, she lived her family life within the context of three generations of Classen osteopathic surgeons in Cleveland, Ohio. While raising their family she supported her husband's professional career as they traveled throughout the United States and Canada together, attending osteopathic surgical conferences, clinical meetings for breast cancer research, Dr. Classen's work with medical education for the "Brentwood Foundation" and volunteer work as a part of the HELPS medical team (a non-profit organization dedicated to the care of Guatemalans who have no access to medical care).

Together they began a non-profit ministry in 2005. The mission "to encourage others to discover hope and healing through God's beauty in the world in times of loss and suffering" was carried out through speaking, writing, and outreach projects. Debra has spoken in prisons, hospitals, churches, workplaces and community centers for the ministry.

Debra describes 2019 as a tsunami year, with the death of three family members, including the sudden death of her beloved husband. Months later she moved from Cleveland, Ohio, to Florida to be near 3 of her grandchildren, on the cusp of a worldwide pandemic. Her experiences of grief have given Debra a uniquely personal and professional perspective on healing body, mind and spirit after loss, for surgeons, patients and their families.
