2022 ASAM Review Course & Addiction Medicine Exams

Course Overview

Educational Purpose

The essential primer for physicians and healthcare professionals in addiction medicine will be live and in-person in 2022! The ASAM Review Course has a major impact on helping physicians prepare for the American Board of Preventive Medicine (ABPM) or the American Osteopathic Association (AOA) addiction medicine examinations and increasing attendees' knowledge on addiction. This two-and-a-half-day course is mapped to the addiction medicine exam blueprint and features outstanding faculty.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion, participants should be able to:

- Demonstrate practical knowledge of the neurobiology of addiction and articulate its activity in terms useful in a clinical setting.
- Describe the effects of alcohol, tobacco and other drugs in both tolerant and non-tolerant individuals.
- Describe the process for diagnosing addiction and differentiating the symptoms of addiction from those of other medical or psychiatric disorders.
- Explain the various pharmacologic and psychosocial treatments for addictive disorders, and describe the factors that should be considered in selecting a treatment modality to match a patient's needs.
- Describe the precipitants of relapse and current evidence-based practices to prevent and manage relapse.

Exam Information

The American Board of Preventive Medicine (ABPM)

The ABPM administers the addiction medicine board exam for MDs. Information about the ABPM exam, application process, and eligibility pathways is available on the ABPM website: www.TheABPM.org/become-certified/

To find out if you're eligible, visit: www.TheABPM.org/am-i-eligible

ABPM Applications Accepted March - June 2022
ABPM Exam Administration Offered in October 2022

* The Practice Pathway has been extended to 2025, after which time a one-year, ACGME-accredited fellowship will be required to become an addiction medicine specialist.

The American Osteopathic Association (AOA)

The AOA administers the board exam for addiction medicine certification for DOs. As of May 26, 2021, MDs may also take the AOA addiction medicine certification exams. Information about the AOA exam, application process, and eligibility pathways is available on the AOA website: <https://certification.osteopathic.org>.

AOA Applications Accepted June – October 2022
ABPM Exam Administration Offered in November 2022

BOARD EXAM STUDY TOOL

Self-Paced, Online & Interactive

The Board Exam Study Tool (BEST) is an updated, interactive, and engaging tool which prepares physicians for the addiction medicine certification exam. The BEST includes over 500 board exam-style questions developed, reviewed, and mapped to the ABPM exam blueprint content areas by national experts and is available on-demand 24/7. The BEST also offers:

- Excerpts and summary highlights from the The ASAM Principles of Addiction Medicine, Sixth Edition
- Two exam models: a customizable exam for review and a pre-set mock exam for practice
- Customizable template allows learners to focus on specific areas they want to review, featuring a study mode remediation feature to indicate scores in comparison to peers and identify learning gaps
- Mock-style exam features remote proctoring that allows learners to simulate a live test-taking experience
- Rationales, justifications and references for exam-style questions
- Didactic content, a glossary of terms, learning activities, and assessments

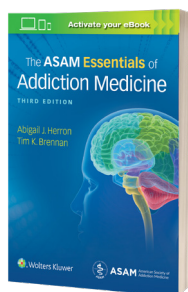

All ASAM 2022 Review Course registrants can purchase the 2022 BEST at a special rate when registering or on-site. The 2022 BEST will be accessible in the ASAM e-Learning Center in May 2022.

Printed Review Course Syllabus

The Review Course Syllabus is a study tool that provides organized, detailed PowerPoint slides from each individual session at the Review Course. The syllabus also outlines a course content map of each session and cites their associated chapters in The ASAM Principles of Addiction Medicine, Sixth Edition. A complimentary, electronic version of the course syllabus is included with registration and will be delivered to all participants via the course website and mobile app. Printed versions of the syllabus are available for the advanced-purchase price of $50 if you place your order by June 2. A limited number of syllabi will be available for purchase on-site for $75 on a first come, first served basis, until supplies run out.
